SUMMARY.

The Austrian offensive has not been renewed since Thursday evening, though there has been some local fighting.

The struggle on the Plate is most confused. Owing to the dense bushes, there are frequent surprises on both sides.

Two hamlets in the Lower Plate salient have been taken six times.

The Austrian pressure on Montebo continued strongly, but was everywhere held by the Italians.

The Italians sanguinely repulsed a strong attack in the direction of Reson.

The Austrians maintained a violent fire on the Grappa ridge, but immediate advances were crushed.

The British, by counter-attacks, recovered the ground taken by the enemy.

The Italians penetrated a post on the Asago plateau and captured the garrison.

Bisenzburg and Liedersdorf have conferred with the Austria Generals on the Italian front.

The German leaders gave advice as to the route which the offensive should be conducted.

An Austrian official report states: "The gains on Thursday made vain efforts to capture positions west of the Plate."

"The struggle at Montebo increased in violence, and we took a few more posts."

"We repulsed an Italian attack at Montebo, and westward of San Dona. Our prisoners now number 4000," adds the report.

In a raid north of the Plate, the Austrians penetrated the German trenches, and inflicted casualties.

The French improved their positions north of Pinerolo, and in the region south of Montebello.

An enemy post southeast of St. Maur has been taken by the French.

An Austrian advanced their line northward of Chateau Thivry, and improved their positions.

A Paris message says the examination of prisoners reveals terrible German losses in the recent offensive.

The French Government is determined to look ahead more effectively than in 1914.

All Parisians whose work does not keep them there are being invited to leave the capital.

This is not a panic measure; it is pointed out as a far-sighted precaution.

There is no question of Paris being besieged, still less invaded.

There is a possibility, however, of the city being shelled by long range guns.

The Americans are now holding 35 miles of the fighting front in France.

Ernest Taff said: "It takes 10 years to make a man, and 100 years to wipe the German Empire off the map."

Further disorders have occurred in Vienna. Banks' shops and cars were plundered.

The rioters demanded a general peace. The military were called out.

A proclamation has been issued, threatening to repress the disorders with severity.

The Austrian Premier, Dr. von Seidler, has resigned, and is endeavouring to re-form the Ministry.

It is reported that all signs point to the complete downfall of the Bohemian regime at early date.

Report from Berlin state that the Russian Government has ordered all army officers to resign their units.

There was a brilliant assembly in the House of Commons yesterday night, when the Imperial Conference entertained the Imperial Conference delegations.

Mr. Hughes said the Empire and her Allies were undismayed and resolute before the eight regions of military despotism.

"We do not understand Germany's power, but await the onslaught with perfect confidence," he added.

At the Lyceum Theatre yesterday Captain Captain Wilson discussed the question, "Are we going to lose the war?"

"There are more satisfied than those who are going to achieve victory, he remarked."

If the Labour extremists could get their own way this country would lose the war as easily as possible.

The recruiting meeting at the Central Depot on Saturday night was addressed by the Lord Mayor, Mr. Lexton, C. C., and others.

In addition to an appeal in the Domain yesterday, meetings were held at the North Sydney Reserve, Ashfield Park, and Manly.

About 400 men, some of them New Zealanders, will parade in Sydney this morning.

The Minister for Recruiting expects that there will be a large attendance at all the "strong posts."

An appeal is shortly to be made by the Lord Mayor for funds for the A.I.F. Memorial and Hall of Fame.

It is a matter of honour, continuing the names of our heroes, to have a Hall of Fame in the Double Bay School by the Minister for Education.

Lieutenant Walter Marks considers it a great pity that the authorities do not accept the offer of the War Cabinet to build a hall in memory of the fallen.

"We have had no objection from the War Cabinet to join such a force," he remarks.

Sir William Cullen on Saturday officially opened a cottage at Artarmon, erected by the Masonic Voluntary Workers.

About 5000 men, gathered in the Domain yesterday, were entertained to a luncheon by Socialists and labour speakers.

A resolution protesting against the stoning of free speech was carried at a Labour platform.

Mr. Justice Miller, writing from America, says he inspected the posts where the wounded after Australia are being built.

"They seem quite good ships, of 3000 tons, and the pattern has been adopted by the United States," he remarks.

At the annual meeting of the Bank of New Zealand, Mr. Chairman said that a critical position was bound to exist after the war.

Two conditions were essential, he said—strict economy and greater industry and production.

A wireless message from Lord Howe Island stated that it was hoped to float the Mahabub on Sunday.

The Minister for Education stated that the school was to take about four years to fit up the Australian posts after the war.

The Governor and Lady Davidson returned to Byron Bay after touring the northern end of the Richmond River district.

Mr. Justice Ferguson, it is understood, was present at the meeting.

A wireless message from Lord Howe Island stated that it was hoped to float the Mahabub on Sunday.

The Minister for Education stated that the school was to take about four years to fit up the Australian posts after the war.

Two conditions were essential, he said—strict economy and greater industry and production.

A wireless message from Lord Howe Island stated that it was hoped to float the Mahabub on Sunday.

The increase will probably be about £10 or £12 per 1000 cubic feet.

Mr. Peter Bowring made an earnest appeal for recruits in the Brisbane Domain on Sunday afternoon.

The war was over by returned soldiers to break up a counter-demonstration.

The police, however, formed a barrier, and the "peace at any price" speakers ended their meeting.

A returned soldier has been speared by a knife in the Northern Territory.

The aborigines concerned in the crime were present, and the soldier was shot.

Miss Eliza Macaray, daughter of the Governor of Western Australia, has died from the effects of a fall from her horse.

A partial eclipse of the moon will occur this evening.

About 300 flags were exhibited at the Canine Special Club, combined with the Royal Canine Club, for the United Kingdom, Europe, and North and South America will close at the General Post Office at 12.30 p.m. on Wednesday.

There was an active market for investment scrips on the Stock Exchange on Saturday.

The feature of the Mining market was a general advance in Barrier stocks.

Forecast—Generally fine, with mild day and cold night temperatures; many frosts and fog; a few passing showers in the extreme north-eastern districts, and becoming cloudy and overcast.

THE AUSTRIAN OFFENSIVE

NOT RENEWED

RIOTS IN VIENNA. "DOWN WITH GERMANY!" FOOD CRISIS.

ITALIAN GAINS

LONDON, June 23.—An Italian official message on Friday evening stated: The enemy's pressure on Monte continued strongly on Thursday, but it was everywhere held by us, our counter-attacks regaining ground.

The enemy attempted advances to the west and south, resulting in a lively struggle, particularly to the east of the Cass-Gheller-Bacuria line, and in the vicinity of Nervesa station. We took 400 prisoners and recaptured two batteries, which were promptly turned against the enemy.

We completely repulsed an attack west of Canele. Our counter-offensive before Fagaro and Zenson was begun on Wednesday night, and continued irresistibly, carrying us to positions of the previous day. The enemy suffered losses equal to his strenuous resistance. We captured several hundred prisoners.

The enemy westward of San Dona valiantly attacked four times against Lovos, being forced to desist by his exceptionally heavy losses.

Parties of sailors and Bersaglieri north of Cortealzo daringly broke in the enemy, taking 200 prisoners and firmly retaining the captured position. We extended the bridgehead at Cava Zuccherina.

American airmen participated in the battle for the first time.

An Italian official report on Saturday stated: The enemy's offensive has not been renewed since Thursday evening. We generally repulsed a strong local attack in the direction of Lovos. The enemy concentrated a violent fire on the Monte and Grappa region. We crushed subsequent infantry advances.

We again enlarged our bridgehead at Cava Zuccherina, taking 150 prisoners. We penetrated a post on the Asiago Plateau and captured the garrison. We brought down ten enemy aeroplanes.

A British-Italian official report on Saturday stated: The situation is unchanged on the British front. Our counter-batteries were most successful, obtaining many direct hits on hostile batteries and exploding numerous dumps.

The Yorkshire Regiment on Friday night successfully raided positions southward of the Asiago, inflicting heavy casualties and taking 31 prisoners.

Between June 12 and 21 we destroyed 26 aeroplanes. Two British failed to return to base.

AUSTRIAN CLAIMS.

(Admiralty by Wireless Press.) An Austrian official report on Friday stated: The enemy on Thursday made vain efforts of undiminished violence to recapture positions which we won westward of the Plave. The struggle at Monteello increased in violence, and we destroyed wave after wave of the enemy's storm troops by hand-to-hand fighting on a twelve-mile front from the Italians throwing in reserve after reserve.

We took 3200 prisoners on Wednesday at Monte alone.

An Austrian official report on Saturday stated: We repulsed Italian attacks at Monte and westward of San Dona. The enemy between June 15 and 20 lost 42 aeroplanes.

Our prisoners now number 40,000, including a few Czech-Slovak legionaries who were immediately subjected to the treatment prescribed by martial law.

TABLES TURNED ON ENEMY.

PROTEST AGAINST SEDITION.

The Australian Press Association learns that 100 Austrians were taken prisoner, and their mountain gunners 75 machine-guns, were captured on the British front in Italy, where our counter-attacks recovered the ground lost by the enemy.

The Austrian gains west of the Brenta are insignificant. The Italian counter-attack render them untenable. The Austrians had better be in the Plave front, where they occur in positions front of 15 miles—no mean achievement. If they had been able to develop it before the Italian reserves were available, the situation would have been serious, but on the 15th the situation was altered to the disadvantage of the Austrians.

The Italian reserves started out a series of raids along the line, breaking the Austrian line, and across the banks of the Plave. The enemy's difficulties are increasing by the river flooding. The transport of supplies and reinforcements has been rendered difficult. There are no more bridges, except one north of Monte, which has been held by British air force. No enemy reinforcements have reached Monte since the 15th.

The Americans used up 30 divisions out of 50, and still have large reserves behind the mountain front. It is possible they may resume the attack on this front, while keeping up pressure on the Plave, so that the Austrians have been defeated it is too early to say they will not attempt to retrieve the situation.

A Washington message says a number of American airmen have arrived in Italy. One hundred of the Plave bridges have been captured.

CONFUSED FIGHTING.

The "Daily Chronicle's" correspondent at Italian headquarters states that the fighting on the Plave was confused. Owing to the dense forest, the Italian forces were unable to see each other. An Italian divisional headquarters was almost surrounded on Thursday. The staff left its desks, snatched up arms, and fought an enemy detachment until the latter was driven off. Two hambars in the Lower Plave salient changed hands six times.

ENEMY THICK FAILS.

Reports have reached Washington that the Austrians attempted to create disorder in the Italian lines. They dressed Austrians able to speak in Italian in Italian uniforms and sent them to the Italian lines. Each Austrian so disguised was executed.

The correspondent of the "New York Times" at Italian headquarters states that Hindenburg and Ludendorff conferred with the Austrian generals on the Italian front. The German leaders gave advice as to the lines on which the offensive should be continued.

THE AMERICANS.

A message from Washington states that joint resolution declaring war against Turkey and Bulgaria was introduced in the House of Representatives and referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee. Representative Kelly, who introduced the resolution, asserted that it was the first all-out concerted act of war against the United States.

Mr. Lansing (Secretary of State) agreed that the attack on the American Consulate in Gabizur, if made by military forces, was a cause bellum.

GERMAN AIRMEN DESERT.

Washington advises state that the Americans are now holding 38 miles of fighting front on the Plave.

A party held by the Americans is divided into numerous sections.

Representative Caldwell informed the Military Conference that the war, as far as the United States is concerned, will begin next September.

RELEASED AUSTRALIANS.

Two Victorians, Lance-corp. A. W. Williams and Private T. J. Phillips, and two Queenslanders, Lance-corp. E. Natrass and Private K. Smith, are among the repatriated prisoners of war. Mr. Phillips was captured at Bertincourt on Sept. 1, 1917. A bomb injured his chest and leg. The others were captured at Bapaume in April, 1917. The explosive bullet smashed Williams' right fore-arm, while he was within 30 yards of the enemy's first line.

SOLDIERS HONoured.

The following honours are announced:

To DSO: Lieutenant-Colonel S. S. Alton (New Zealand). The bomb injured his chest and leg.

To DSO: Major N. A. Duthie and E. H. Orr (New Zealand).

To Military Cross: Captain R. C. Phillips, and Lieutenant F. Gowler (Australia).

WEST FRONT. RAIDS BY BRITISH.

LONDON, June 23.—Sir Douglas Haig reporting at noon on Friday stated: We captured a few prisoners and carts were plundered, the riders and horses were shot. The military have been called out. A proclamation threatens severely to repress disorders.

A Zurich report says there are 150,000 munition workers on strike in Vienna. The police dispersed rioters who were attempting to attack the German Embassy, shouting "Down with Germany." Many arrests were made. A number of strikers were injured.

Socialist leaders are making strenuous efforts to control the workers. It is reported that Hungary is sending 200 trucks of potatoes and other vegetables to Germany, and 1000 trucks of wheat.

The Austrian Premier Dr. von Stadler has said in regard to this: He is attempting to rive a minister.

A New York message says reports are current that the life of the Emperor Charles has been attempted. There is no confirmation of the report.

Reports of food riots in Vienna state that 5000 soldiers and sailors also that 5000 students had been in procession through the streets demanding peace and bread. The police dispersed them with swords.

Advices from Zurich received Washington state that the Austrian Government has reduced the daily ration of bread to 12 grammes. The Minister explained that the food supplies were practically exhausted, except in Bessarabia.

The latest German message says the grain which Germany sent to Austria is for the army, not for civilians.

The "Arbeiter Zeitung" (Vienna) supports the socialist party's veto of a general strike, and contends that partial strikes often suffice to obtain what is wanted. A general strike does not succeed, other means are taken.

GERMAN REFUGEE.

A French message says that 5000 refugees had been in procession through the streets demanding peace and bread. The police dispersed them with swords.

Advices from Zurich received Washington state that the Austrian Government has reduced the daily ration of bread to 12 grammes. The Minister explained that the food supplies were practically exhausted, except in Bessarabia.

AMERICAN GAIN.

An American official communiqué states: On Friday north-westward of St. Maur they advanced our line and improved our positions.

GERMAN STATEMENT.

(Admiralty by Wireless Press.)

A German official report on Friday stated: The enemy kept up violent reconnoitring thrusts on the whole of Prince Thurn's front, but was everywhere repelled.

Hospital buildings in the Veste Valley have twice recently been the objective of enemy air raids.

FUTURE ALLIANCE.

(Admiralty by Wireless Press.)

A German official report on Friday stated: The enemy kept up violent reconnoitring thrusts on the whole of Prince Thurn's front, but was everywhere repelled.

COUNT THURN speaking in the Hungarian Parliament, denied the accusations that Hungarians would be given autonomy. He said that most provinces had only one-fourth of the food necessary to maintain health. Germany must be convinced that Hungary's plight was as bad as that of Austria.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

American newspapers give prominence to a speech by Lord Reading (British Ambassador), as indicating a desire for the closest relations between Britain and America. Lord Reading, acknowledging the conference by naval attaché, said: "We desire to combine with America as fully as you will for the benefit of humanity."

Professor Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard, said he hoped the Ambassador would eventually be able to arrange an offensive and defensive Anglo-American alliance.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

The German view.

An American message says a semi-official statement from Berlin states: Vincenz Glatz, pamphlet, "The League of Nations," appears at a time when voices from the Entente show that the league which the Entente desires would be merely an Anglo-Saxon business trust for the suppression of all foreign competition.

IRISH-AMERICANS.

A New York message says the Ancient Order of Hibernians has demanded that the United States Government shall stamp out treason and sedition, which are preached openly under the guise of Irish patriotism.

The Hibernians are fully in accord with the United States in the prosecution of the war.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

PROPOSED FLIGHT.

Major-General Brander, of the British Air Ministry, who is in America co-operating in the aero-plane outfit, said American aero-planes ought to be able to fly across the Atlantic next summer.

He announced that the Royal Flying Corps intended to attempt Transatlantic flights in order to find a route for the movement of American aircraft to the front.

The initial flight probably would be made in the autumn by British machine, touching the Azores and Portugal. The estimated time for the flight was 40 hours.

TO FIGHT AUSTRIANS.

A Washington message says the authorities have approved of legislation permitting Judge-Slays, Czechs-Slovaks, and Poles in the United States to take up arms against Austria.

It will add from $200,000 to $500,000 to the sum of $100,000 already voted for the purpose.

The bill was introduced by Senator Hartley, of Ohio, and passed by the Senate.

A San Francisco message says arrivals from Russia report that thousands of Czechs are ready to leave Russia for the United States to fight against Austria.

AMERICA AND TURKEY.

PRECAUTIONS IN PARIS.

The correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" in Paris says the French Government is determined to look ahead more effectively than in 1914, therefore all Parisians whose work does not keep them there are being invited to leave the capital. This is not a panic measure, but a far-sighted precaution.

There is no question that the Empire's war effort will be maintained.

Mr. Hartley, who has been in Paris, said: "We are not afraid to let our men go, but we are afraid of what they may meet when they get home."

A Chicago report states that Germany, according to Lord Dunmore, must achieve victory within six months, otherwise her defeat is certain. The man-power balance is steadily moving on the Allies' side.

THE AUSTRALIANS.

(Official Commonwealth Correspondent.)

The Australian Press Association learns that 100 Austrians were taken prisoner, and their mountain gunners 75 machine-guns, were captured on the British front in Italy, where our counter-attacks recovered the ground lost by the enemy.

The Austrian gains west of the Brenta are insignificant. The Italian counter-attack render them untenable. The Austrians had better be in the Plave front, where they occur in positions front of 15 miles—no mean achievement.

The transport of supplies and reinforcements has been rendered difficult. There are no more bridges, except one north of Monte, which has been held by British air force.

No enemy reinforcements have reached Monte since the 15th.

THE SUBMARINES.

A report from Washington states that a capital steamer notifies concerning a U-boat on South Carolina, but escaped, owing to submerged rocks.

A second U-boat was seen 150 miles south of Sandy Hook, which pursued a steamer, but the vessel also escaped.

Advises from Rio Janeiro state that the British ship Holstein had landed 42 survivors from the British steamer Cairnross, 4000 tons, which was sunk by a U-boat after an all-night fight.

The United States Marine Department has offered a reward of 1000 dollars for information leading to the discovery of the U-boat base in American waters.

Navy advised state that a large German submarine took refuge at Barcelona after a lively fight with Allied vessels.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

A message from Ottawa states that 5000 Canadians aged 18, have registered for service under conscription.

A Washington message says the United States' shipbuilding programme is proceeding without labour trouble, according to Mr. Hurst (Chairman of the Board). Half a million sailors are employed.

MURDER BY BLACKS.RETURNED SOLDIER SPEARED.*PURSUIT BY PUNITIVE PARTY.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

An exciting story was told in connection with the murder in the Northern Territory of a returned soldier, Alexander Macdonald, and the chase after the aborigines who were culprised in the killing. Seven aborigines were shot during the pursuit.

Reports concerning the murder have been forwarded to the Department of Home Affairs by the Administrator of the Northern Territory (Mr. J. A. Glirrith), who pointed out that the occurrence demonstrated the danger that still exists in the untried districts from the hands of uncivilised blacks, especially when led as they seemed to have been in this case, by some native.

It was stated that the punishment meted out promptly after the crime, including the death of one black believed to be the murderer, had already been seen about three years of active service, won two distinctions, and was wounded on two occasions, he was prepared to go back again and fight for his country.

RECRUITING.IRISH REPUBLICAN BROTHERHOOD.*THE 1916 INSURRECTION.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

Reference to the Irish Republican Brotherhood is contained in the report of the ministerial committee before the Royal Commission on Saturday, June 16, 1918.

This report states that the insurrection in Ireland, which burst out at Dublin on April 24, 1916, was the result of the actions of the citizen army, and the Irish Republican Brotherhood.

It was also stated that the rebellion of April 24, 1916, but there was no doubt that in those months they worked under one direction, for the actions of the Irish volunteers, in that they were probably supported by the Irish Republican Brotherhood, which was known as a party of revolutionaries.

Sergeant G. A. Nichols, M.C. (with bar), was presented with a wristlet watch by the citizens of Cork, prior to proceeding to America, in recognition of his services abroad.

The Mayor, in making the presentation, stated that Sergeant Nichols could see what a great many others could not, the men of Cork, who had seen about three years of active service, won two distinctions, and was wounded on two occasions, he was prepared to go back again and fight for his country.

RETURNED SOLDIERS' MEETING.

A mass meeting of returned soldiers to deal with their problems for rehiring them was at the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon, June 20. There will be an organ recital between 2 and 2.30, and a concert by Captain Wilson and Lieutenant Charlie Wilson and Lieutenant Thomas.

On March 29 the search party caught sight of a number of aborigines on Rainberk Mountain, and the aborigines rolled big stones down on the pursuing party, who opened fire and shot three of the blacks.

There was a move by a body of returned soldiers to break up a counter-demonstration held by pro-Germanists, but the police formed a barrier, and the "peace at any price" orators ceased speaking.

ORANGE.—Another member of the clerical party at the local town hall (Mr. Alfred O'Connor) has enlisted, making the fourth to from that office.
